How ~~is~~ important is it to practice a sport regularly when you are in your teens?

Most people would agree that sports can have a good influence on human's health, but is this really such important for teenagers to exercise regularly? In this essay I'm going to write about how ~~is it~~ important ~~for~~ is it for teens to exercise regularly.

To begin with, it is a stated fact that any kind of sports can have a positive affect on your body. As for the teens, their body is still developing and growing. So in this age it should be obligatory to do some exercise. Have ~~at~~ sedentary lifestyle can influence your bones and make their structure bad. Also it has a good influence on our muscle structure.

Secondly, ~~having a good~~ exercising everyday or ~~keep~~ having some regular sports activities is a great way to make your social status better. Most of the people who are interested in sports are much more popular than who are having a sedentary lifestyle. Also people who do some sports regularly are always look better than the others.

In my opinion, it is also noticeable that sports have some good influence on our emotional state. Teens sometimes have a ~~good~~ bad period of time when they feel sad or stressed. A fast walk can turn your bad feeling into something good.

To sum up, it is clear that sports ~~can~~ might have some affect on a different people, but it seems that teenagers have some more positive aspects of sport on their life.
