I think that sport is a rule of life. Of course it can take lots of your time but it would give you many pluses too. The first thing, which is positive, is health. As far as we are concerned when you keep your body fit your organism feels much more better itself and it helps to struggle with different illnesses. The second point it's that you can look more attractive, cause fit body looks very nice. Something that I want to draw your attention to it's that you must do sport only for yourself willingness. The reason for this it is a motivation. You wouldn't do anything that you really unlike. Let's return to the positive positions again. I suppose that sport helps you in your social life, because one of the type of sport is team sport, where you can make friends for all your life and lots of more. My idea of ^{another} positive point is that you can enter the university easily, (if you do this sport professionally. Because sport is very important in the century of technology.

Now I want to tell you how important is regular sport for me. I'm playing basketball professionally and it gives me a lot of facilities. For example, I'm travelling for different cities and countries make new friends and meet new people at all. I really like this sport and I want to say thank for it. In conclusion we can say that sport is very important at all and you ~~must~~ ^{should} do it regularly. 238
