To begin with, I'd like to say that there is a tendency of changing careers and places of <sup>living</sup> ~~residence~~ in modern society. Some people have a real opportunity to move to <sup>a</sup> big and developed city or to choose well-paid job. It depends on their education, salary, personal skills and aims<sup>50</sup>.

From the one hand, this is a positive development, as a person could achieve better results in his career, could found a very exciting and interesting ~~profession~~ kind of activity, could ~~be~~ be more respectable than he was before. Also, one could try something new and it would help him to earn more and to ~~live~~ live easier life<sup>56</sup>. Moreover, new city would help ~~one~~ somebody to have a lot of new communications with a ~~number~~ great number of ~~the~~ different people<sup>126</sup>.

From the other hand, there are some disadvantages in this process. Firstly, you can get into trouble about new flat and it would be hard to find a way of solving this problem. Secondly, ~~you~~ there is no ~~major~~ <sup>174</sup> guaranty that you will find a good and prestigious job immediately.

In conclusion I would like to say that <sup>174</sup> there are positive and negative aspects in such situation. ~~Every person~~ People decide what to do only <sup>174</sup> by themselves, but close friends and relatives may give them useful advice and help when it is necessary. For example, when I moved to Khabarovsk, my classmates called me every day. Thanks to them, I felt myself calm and didn't worry about something.
