Part 4

Nowadays many elderly people live alone. It's hard for them to do everything by themselves. So, they need help.

I think, we must take care of them: we should help them with their housework, talk with them, read. We should help them, because they deserve it. Our grandparents took care of us when we were kids, they gave us their love. So, when they become old, we should thank them.

As for new Japanese technology, I don't think it's a good idea. Such systems ^{are} very useful, but elderly people usually feel loneliness. So, talk with a real man will help them more than electronic system without ~~out~~.

So, elderly people need our help. We should take care of them (by ourselves) not only ~~with~~ ^{by} technologies.
