Part IV

We all should be thankful to our parents and grandparents because they tought us and raise us. When our elderly relatives need help, we should provide them ^{with} everything (as possible).

Some may say that they are too busy to look after their parents every hour, but you can visit them at the weekends at special houses, where old people are cared by doctors and psychologists.

Sound monitoring system at home is also a good way to look after ^{old} elder relatives. You can help your mother by giving advise to open the window to let the fresh air in, while being at work.

People should care about elderly people, no matter which way.
