Libraries aren't very popular nowadays, because many people prefer internet books than real ones.

Libraries appeared many-many years ago, when the Christ wasn't born. They were needed to collect and to document various <sup>different kinds of</sup> information. Many books were written by famous scientists and philosophers like Aristotel.

Nowadays people without a computer go to modern libraries to get a book. I don't go to any libraries but I sometimes go there to various ~~excursions~~ excursions.

In future libraries may be used as historical archives.

Dear readers, I advise you to read books. It is always more interesting and more pleasant to talk with an educated man than with non-dramatical ones.
