Letter

I was really surprised when I read an e-mail.

It said I have won a big money lottery.

Firstly, I was easily confused and felt in shock, because I have never won any contents, like this one. But then I understood, that I haven't taken part in any lotteries. So I realised that people, who sent me this email were moneystealers. I ignored this letter, but then a foreign number called me. Then it said, that they needed my card's number to send me prize money. I realised who they were and blocked the number.

If you had such situation, always remember, that in any case, you shouldn't tell such people your personal information. Thieves want to get your money, using any ways.
